

DARING ROBBERY.

Man Held Up by Footpads—Thieves Captured.
A bold highway robbery occurred early yesterday morning, the victim being J. W. Woolsey, who owns considerable property on Turner street. Between 4 and 5 o'clock, as Mr. Woolsey was returning to his home, he was met upon by two men, near the corner of Second and Alameda streets, who knocked him down, beat him, and robbed him of a silver watch and some change that he had in his pockets. In searching for the help, the watch was found on the person of the footpad, who gave the name of Lee Wallace, and he was locked up on a charge of robbery. Jock was locked up on suspicion.

Mr. Woolsey identified his watch, and there is a straight case against Wallace.

Besides the small amount of money Mr. Woolsey had in his pockets, he had $100 in greenbacks and $400 in checks in his inside vest pocket, and the thieves failed to get.

In the search for the help, he was taken before Justice Austin, when his examination was set for today, and he was committed to jail in default of bail.

DENTIST ADAMS.

He Again Appears in the Police Court.
S. H. Adams, the dentist, again figured in the Police Court yesterday, appearing before Justice Austin as the defendant in a battery case. Last June Adams arrested a saloon-keeper named John Cattl, who occupied a house belonging to his wife, and whom he accused of making way with some money used for a partition. Adams claimed to be a Deputy Constable, and took Cattl to the County Jail, where he had him locked up for a short time until Jailer Darcy looked into the facts, when he released him. Adams was arrested on a charge of personating an officer, but when his case came up for trial before Justice Lockwood, and after the jury had been partially impaneled, that official was himself arrested, and the jury was discharged. Afterward, when the case was called, it was dismissed on the ground that Adams had been once in jeopardy. That was not satisfactory, and a new complaint was sworn out against Adams, charging him with battery. The main facts in the case were again gone over yesterday, when the case was called, it was orally contradicted by several of the witnesses, and Justice Austin, on one or two occasions was compelled to call Adams to order. Owing to the absence of Constable Fred Smith and Deputy H. C. Vignes, who are witnesses for the people, the case was not concluded last evening.

SCHOOL MATTERS.

rumored Resignation of Superintendent Friesner.
It is said that Superintendent Friesner of the city schools will tender his resignation at the next meeting of the Board of Education. Mr. Friesner has been in bad health for some months past, and has concluded that in justice to himself he cannot longer perform the duties of the office. No one has as yet been mentioned for the place, and case Mr. Friesner should resign. The resignation of C. A. Cox as a member of the Board from the First Ward, will also be presented at the next meeting, that gentleman having removed to Tulare, where he will engage in the banking business. There are quite a number of candidates for this place, and the matter has been discussed among the members, but they have not as yet agreed upon any one.

A prominent member of the Board yesterday intimated to a TIMES reporter that there were liable to be some sensational developments at the next meeting, but declined to say what they were.

FINAL CHAUTAUQUA EXERCISES.

Presentation of Prizes in the Amphitheater This Evening—Tomorrow Recognition Day—Brief Notes of Interest.

Yesterday was one of the last of the Chautauqua assembly at Redondo. In the evening Rev. W. H. Milburn delivered his lecture entitled "The Fourth of Gold." The audience was large and appreciative.

To-day's programme consisted of a lecture by Dr. Milburn at 11 o'clock, the Round Table meeting at the usual hour, and in the evening indoor athletic sports and presentation of prizes to the winners in the tennis tournament and of all the athletic events.

To-morrow will be Recognition Day, the last and most interesting day of the assembly.

The Yaguinas had a narrow escape from being stranded on the beach during the pyrotechnic display Monday evening, owing to the alleged intoxication of the captain. Prompt action on the part of the first mate alone prevented a disaster.

Several exciting games of tennis were played yesterday afternoon on the hotel courts.

In a way the modern Redondo bathing dress suggests the observation of the high license law.

The evening mail was late and was not distributed, to the disappointment of the army of expectant letter recipients.

A large theater party from the hotel witnessed the Palmer company's performance yesterday evening, returning in a special train.

The evening hops are a pleasant feature of life at the hotel.

The following people from Los Angeles registered at the Redondo yesterday: D. Read, Misses E. Mackenzie and Childs, Chas. Wier, Edgar Moore, E. S. Mackenzie, J. H. Bryan, daughters and maid.

The steamer Yaguina left yesterday for San Francisco. The Los Angeles arrived late in the day from the north and toward evening continued her journey to San Pedro. Seventy tons of freight were taken off at this port.

A feature of the fishing was the large variety of fish caught. The Tam O'Shanter leaves today. The three mast schooner Bertie Miner will then be drawn up to the wharf and her cargo of 400,000 feet of lumber taken off.

BASE BALL.

A base ball match between the Tufts-Lyon Arms Club of Los Angeles and the Alhambra nine came off yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A number of spectators witnessed the game, which resulted in an easy victory for the Los Angeles players by a score of 11 to 1. The one-sided score is due in part to the fact that Alhambra was weakened by the absence of her strongest men, whose places had to be filled by the best available substitutes. The Los Angeles team was strengthened by Ross, a well-known professional base-ballist and an all around good player.

The teams were made up as follows: Los Angeles: Wooley, short stop; Hutton, third base; Casman, captain and second base; Pauly, pitcher; Brumiller, catcher; Ross, first base; Bentley, left field; Williams, center field; Pittblado, right field.

Alhambra: Wallace, first base; Thurber, pitcher; Clapp, catcher; Halsted, captain and short stop; G. Heslop, third base; S. Heslop, center field; Lawrie, second base; Moorhead, right field; Winston, left field. Only seven innings were played.

CROWN HILLS.

Meeting of the Improvement Society Last Night.

The regular meeting of the Crown Hills Improvement Society was held last evening at the Ellis College Hall, with a full attendance.

It was stated that the surveyors would commence work on the Second Street Road today, that all the materials needed had been ordered, and that work would be pushed so that the road would be ready for business by the first of January.

The committee on water reported that the city officials whose duty it is to correct complaints seemed loth to take hold of anything connected with the water companies, and that it was impossible to get anything done. The condition of the present water supply it was stated is anything but pleasant to contemplate.

The Chairman stated that the election of officers would take place at the next meeting, when all the standing committees would be reorganized.

To Cover the Open Grate.

There is hardly any problem which a refined householder faces so hopelessly as the summer fireplace. The gorgeous mechanism of open work from which the stove man leaves there to take the place of the grate cannot be endured. It is better to leave the grate in its place to tell the story of cheerful fires that were. But the grate hopelessly gathers dust. The soot sifts down from the unused chimney and blows into the room, and it is altogether an untidy arrangement. In the country a pleasant way of settling this problem is to cover the grate screen with boughs of balsam fir, which dries and fills the closed room with the faint, fresh fragrance of the forest.

An easy way is to use a grate screen. Such a screen in bamboo, hung with shirred silk, will cost $4 or $5. In an elaborate white and gold parlor probably the best way of settling the problem is to use a white and gold screen, hung with a panel of handsome embroidery in Louis XV ribbonwork or any decorative needlework. Such a screen may cost from $25 upward. A hanging of matting, fringed at the lower edge and painted with a fireplace and crane, is pretty in a country parlor. A blooming flower pot of begonias will sometimes thrive in such a place in the room and fill up the space with beauty. A jardiniere placed before the fireplace and filled with ferns is sure to grow if well watered.—New York Tribune.

An Editor's Literary Comforts.

Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge is one of those wise literary women who believe that if a woman must work with the pen she should be surrounded with all possible conveniences. And Mrs. Dodge certainly has the comforts. Finding that ideas would often come to her when her assistant was away from her, and wishing to save herself the manual labor of writing it down, she purchased a phonograph. Now, when an idea strikes her at home, she simply talks it to the phonograph, and when her stenographer comes it is taken from the machine, recalled to the author and she elaborates it by dictation. Her library center table, at which she sits to read, has a tall lamp built in the middle, a deep, easy chair at one side and a bookstand and couch built around the legs. Writing materials are convenient, within reach, and altogether the editor of St. Nicholas does not exert herself any more than is absolutely necessary in her work. And she is right, for by saving her physical strength she adds to her mental capacities. Few women are so diplomatic, however, but then few literary women, on the other hand, can afford such time saving conveniences.—New York Letter.

Interchangeable Costumes.

I saw, by the way, the other day a dude—that is, I suppose he was—with a white China silk shirt on, and a broad black China silk sash tied around his waist. I heard that the men were "going to" wear sashes two years ago, but I scarcely ever expected to see it. It really seems as though things were going to balance themselves after all. The women with their bifurcated skirts, men's shirts and jackets and cravats, and sailor hats, are a pretty fair match for the men with baggy trousers, China silk blouses and sashes, and jackets and sailor hats. A little way off one can scarcely tell them apart, especially if riding a bicycle or cross saddle, as they now they are going to do. Oh, if the women could only raise mustaches! Cannot the inventors of Spanish court cream or some other beautifier invent something to bring out a mustache upon the lips of fair women, where it was never intended to be, except by accident in the moonlight, may be, and quickly removed.—Yenowine's News.

The "Evil Eye."

Belief in the evil eye is very prevalent in western Asia, as it is in northern Africa, and even Italy and Spain. Dr. Masbaki, of Damascus, says of those who entertain this belief that they think certain people have the power of killing others by a glance of the eye. Others think that it only inflicts injury of a greater or lesser degree. The Persians believe that the owner of an evil eye can wither a whole vineyard of grapes by merely looking at them at noon in the dark of the moon. Of this class it is said that "they pick grapes with the eye." The power may rest in one eye only, and many who believe themselves afflicted veil one eye out of compassion for others. Moslem sheiks profess to cure the evil eye and prevent its effects by writing mystic, talismanic words on a paper, which is placed in a nut shell and worn about the neck. When a new house is being built the workmen hang up an egg shell, a piece of alum, a donkey's skull, an old root or a pair of boots in the front door, all this to ward off the effects of any evil eye that may look upon the building before it is finished. Moslem women allow their children to go dirty and ragged to keep people from admiring them and thus smiting them with the evil eye. Blue eyes they think especially obnoxious and only to be counteracted by lustily calling upon Allah.

ORGANIZED labor may at times become as great a tyranny as a crowned despot, or a wealthy, legislature-purchasing syndicate of combined capital. It is the same thing under another shape—the rule of brute force.

THE Arizona Republican, whose editor was formerly editor of the Trombone, ventures the following little pleasantry:

A derrick at Hamburg picks up a ten-wheel locomotive. It should tackle a Los Angeles Tribune editorial, as a test of its capacity.

A SAN FRANCISCO judge recently decided that a bail bond cannot be accepted unless it gives security that would be accepted by a trust fund. This is an excellent decision, and, if generally followed, would put an end to the prevalence of straw bail, which brings the law into such contempt.

THE damage by floods to the Sonora railroad, running south from Benson, has been so severe that the temporary abandonment of the line is announced. The people of Tucson are utilizing the opportunity to endeavor to have the road built from that place, instead of Benson. When it was first built, Tucson could have secured the road, had the citizens of that place displayed a little liberality and public spirit.

CALIFORNIA'S EXPENSIVE ORPHANS.

Among the expenditures which go to make up the great total which the taxpayers of the State are called upon to contribute every year, those for orphan asylums take important place, amounting to nearly a quarter of a million dollars. The State of California is pre-eminent in the Union for the amount which it thus expends. There are at present nearly five thousand orphaned or half-orphaned children supported by the State, at a cost, for the fiscal year ending June 1889, of $231,000. It is now, probably, still greater. The sums contributed to homes for aged indigents swell this total to $400,000.

In his last report, the Secretary of the State Board of Examiners on Orphan Asylums criticizes the system which allows the payment by the State of so large a sum to institutions over which it has no control, and in the expenditure of which it has no voice. The law under which these appropriations are made provides for the keeping of certain books, but the provision is violated by nearly all the institutions drawing aid under the act.

Other States have dealt more wisely with this question, among these Michigan. That State—more populous than California—pays out only $85,000 annually for the support of two hundred orphans, while California expends a quarter of a million for the support of over four thousand. Michigan, though she permits no orphans to go unprovided for, does not foster juvenile pauperism. In brief, the Michigan system is this:

Parents who cannot support their children are not permitted to deposit them to be supported by charity for the time being, but are required to give them up. The State may be said to adopt them. They are sent to the State Public School, an institution established in 1874, as far as it can be done, they are removed from this and put out in families on written contract, which provides for their treatment as members of the family and for their education in the public schools. A supervision of the children is maintained during minority by the county agents and by a traveling special agent of the school.

Under this system, there is said to have been a marked decrease in juvenile paupers in Michigan. It would be worth while to give the system a trial in California, as, at present, we offer an inducement to other States to dump their orphans and paupers upon us.

READERS HAVE RIGHTS AS WELL AS PRINTERS.

The Sacramento Bee is the first journal received at this office, since the inauguration of the printers' strike, which does not unequivocally condemn that action. The Bee thinks that the better plan would have been for the papers to publish less matter, rather than reduce rates of compensation.

The obvious comment upon this is that such a step would have been an attempt to give the public less reading matter in order to benefit the printer. The object of all enterprising newspapers—at least in such wideawake and enlightened communities as Los Angeles—is to give their readers as large an amount and as good a quality of reading as possible for their subscriptions. It has been the object of THE TIMES to do this, without interfering with the reasonable and just demands of labor. The Bee adds:

The Bee always holds that it must conduct its own office according to the ideas of its managers. It has never yet knuckled to any organized body, and it never will. It pays the present scale of prices because it thinks them about fair and right, but no power could force it to pay them if it considered them unjust or exorbitant.

If the striking printers can succeed in extracting any encouragement or comfort from such an "endorsement" as this, they are entirely welcome to it.

THE type-setting machine has come to stay, and will, before long, be in general use throughout the world. Within a few weeks the Sun, Times, World and other New York dailies are to begin the use of these machines. It is also announced that the printer of the Century Magazine is to have his type-setting done by machinery. A syndicate of book publishers has also made arrangements to put fifty or a hundred type-setting machines into a co-operative office, where all the body matter of cheap publications issued in New York, will be turned out. This is not the era when it is wise or profitable for trades-union compositors to longer attempt the practical assertion of their arrogant, despotic and exclusive tendencies. The printing of newspapers and books cannot be stopped by individuals or combinations of craftsmen. The world moves, and the world will and must read. Liberty, law and letters go together.

GOV. WATERMAN is at Sacramento, where he has been quite a stranger for some time. His object in repairing to the State capital may be gathered from a paragraph in the San Francisco Chronicle's Sacramento dispatch, which states that Waterman lost no chance to assure every delegate that the nomination of Markham means the defeat of the Republican party by twenty thousand votes, and that, under no circumstances, will he support him. This is very dignified work for a Republican Governor of the State to be engaged in! The fact that the people of California despise and dislike him has evidently rendered the old man rabid, but his incoherent and unseemly jabbering has no more weight with the public than a puff of sewer-gas from a man-hole. The passer-by simply turns his nose and accelerates his pace a little.

ATTACKS upon the Speaker of the House have become very frequent in the Senate of late and some of the Representatives are growing restive.

ACCORDING to the Express, Frank P. Kelly says he would not accept a second term as District Attorney under any consideration. This decision shows remarkably good judgment on Mr. Kelly's part. He is, however, willing to serve the people in the Legislature.

We are informed by telegraph that Manitoba crops are not frozen, the thermometer having stopped within one degree of the freezing point. The fact that such a "vindicication" is necessary, as a denial that the crops are frozen in August, ought however to result in making many settlers hesitate before they venture into a region of such climatic extremes.

MARKHAM!

The Republican State Convention merely appointed the committee yesterday, and adjourned until ten o'clock this morning. J. C. Campbell of San Joaquin—a Shippee man—was chosen as temporary chairman, under an arrangement between the gubernatorial aspirants, which had been arrived at on the previous day.

The anti-Markham men are keeping up their assassin-like warfare to the last. The Sacramento papers yesterday published as paid notice, articles reiterating all the exploded charges against the Southern California candidate. If the delegates are average, fair-minded, independent Californians, such despicable work as this cannot fail to make many friends for Col. Markham.

Our special dispatch from Sacramento this morning gives most encouraging news as to Markham's prospects. In fact, our correspondents hold his nomination to be a foregone conclusion. This is most encouraging, not only to Southern Republicans, but to Republicans throughout the State, and to all friends of popular government. If Markham wins, it will be a victory for loyalty, for manhood; for independence, and for correct Republican principles and methods. In this respect Markham is not the candidate of Southern California, but of the State—of a principle which should be dear to the hearts of all independent Americans.

Opposed to him has been every influence which money and political power could bring to bear. A suborned press has been hired to wage against him a campaign of lies. Sectional animosity has been invoked, and every trick known to the practiced and unscrupulous politician has been brought into play to vanquish the candidate of the people. Notwithstanding all this, the solid phalanx of the Markham men has never wavered—has never dreamt of wavering—and such exceptional unanimity and enthusiasm has had its effect upon the delegations from other sections. It has inspired the weak and has given fresh energy to the strong.

If Markham wins the day, it will be a glorious victory for the popular will over corrupt political methods.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE. The performance of Saints and Sinners by the Palmer Company last night was a perfect success, and the rendition of the piece was most well received; four curtain calls after one act may be considered an exceptional display of enthusiasm for a Los Angeles audience.

Mr. Stoddard's performance has been witnessed here before and is familiar to our players. It is therefore enough to say that it was last night as perfect as ever, and showed the work of the true artist from beginning to end. Maud Harrison's attempt at an emotional role out of her usual line, was very effective, and the whole company gave a thoroughly finished presentation of a very interesting and interesting play.

Mr. Robinson's make up as the chapel deary was the drollest upon the performance. The idea of his wearing a wig with such a costume is an outrage upon common sense and spoils his personation entirely.

A Blackmailer's Sentence. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—I. N. Choyinski, convicted of sending a threatening letter to Obadiah Livermore for the purpose of extorting money, was sentenced by Judge Shafter today to three years in Folsom prison. The Court granted a stay of execution until the first. The prisoner was remanded to the custody of the Sheriff.

Struck for Nine Hours.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 12.—The strike of machinists for nine hours is spreading. Three thousand men are now idle. The principal fight seems to be against the Westinghouse interests. By tomorrow, it is said, all employees of Westinghouse, numbering 4,000 will be out.

A Wicked Doctor Shot.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Dr. O. Sawyer was shot, probably fatally, this afternoon by J. Barton Fletcher, who claims to be a correspondent of the Chicago Horseman. The shooting was brought about by the alleged intimacy between the doctor and Fletcher's wife.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 12.—The Chicago and Atlantic railroad was sold under foreclosure today for $5,000,000, to a representative of the E. & R. road, which thus secures an entrance into Chicago.

A NOBLE PAGEANT.

A Grand Army Parade at Boston.

Thousands of Veterans Join in the Monster Procession.

Reviewed by President Harrison and Gen. Alger.

The Greatest and Most Impelling Military Demonstration Ever Witnessed in the Metropolis of New England.

By Telegraph to The Times.

Boston, Aug. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] Before 8 o'clock the roar of cannon from the fleet in the harbor announced the Dispatch with Secretary Tracy, Vice-President Morton and Gen. Sherman, coming up the bay, and half an hour later another salute announced their arrival in the harbor. Subsequently Secretary Tracy and the Vice-President took seats on the Presidential reviewing stand at Adams square. President Harrison breakfasted early. Shortly before 9 o'clock he received the Governor and State delegation and the party took carriages and rode over a portion of the route of the parade to view the decorations.

After the drive the President took his place on the reviewing stand. During the drive the President was the recipient of many expressions of good will and respect from the crowds along the way. Meantime the formation of the great parade was proceeding on Commonwealth avenue. The Common and streets adjacent were black with marching posts, while many thousands of spectators witnessed the maneuvers from the public garden and every other spot in the neighborhood where space could be procured. The weather is cool and pleasant, and it is estimated there are 100,000 strangers in the city.

An unexpected delay occurred in the formation of the column, owing to the lateness of the arrival of delegations and the difficulty of massing so large a force in such narrow quarters. The departments ranged on Commonwealth avenue in the order of seniority, Illinois leading, Massachusetts as receiving department occupying the left of the line. At 11:30 all was ready. Commander-in-Chief, Alger, with a full staff of 600 mounted men, escorted by the One Hundred and Thirtieth Massachusetts Cavalry, and headed by a corps of mounted police, rode to the head of the ill-named department. The band struck up "God Bless the Soldiers," and at the command of the leader, the greatest military street pageant ever witnessed in Boston began to march.

At 1 o'clock only six departments, those of Illinois, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York and Connecticut, had passed out of Commonwealth avenue, and it looked as though the last department would not get off before late this afternoon. Gen. Alger rushed the reviewing stand in Adams square at 1:45 p. m.

As early as 8 a. m. the space in the vicinity of Copley square was densely crowded and the fortunate possessors of tickets of admission to the grand stand at that point were early in their seats. Seats were reserved for the Presidential party. At 10 o'clock a carriage drove up and General Sherman alighted and took a seat in the front row. At 10:20 the strains of "Hail to the Chief" and rousing cheers announced the coming of the President, and a few minutes later a carriage drawn by four horses drove up with Governor Brackett and President Harrison. A second carriage bore Vice President Morton and Mayor Hart. This was followed by the carriage of Secretaries Noble, Proctor, Tracy, Bush, Private Secretary Milford, Admiral Gherard, William McKinley, Honorable Henry Cabot Lodge, Gen. Sikes and other prominent people. Scarcely had the applause which greeted the Presidential party subsided, when there was a flash of excitement which broke into hearty cheers as the familiar face of Mrs. John A. Logan appeared above the sea of faces. She was accompanied by Mrs. Alger and Mrs. McKee. The appearance of Gen. Alger, who rode a spirited bay, was the signal for the rising of the President and Cabinet. Each department came in front of the stand the colors were dipped, hats raised, and in many instances rousing cheers were given the President, "Uncle Jerry" coming in for the lion's share of attention when Wisconsin passed in review.

At 1:40 p. m. a squad of mounted police immediately followed by Commander in Chief Alger and staff made their appearance in Adams square. The Commander in Chief and staff were received on the reviewing stand by Gen. Butler and other Gen. Butcher, on the stand since 1 o'clock. Hardly had he taken his position on the reviewing stand when the head of the procession came in sight. Gen. Alger and Butler stood side by side saluting column after column as they passed. After the long march which the veterans had undergone they braced themselves for a good appearance as they passed their commander, and did finely. Post No. 5 of Chicago gave the first cheer at the call of "Hurrah for our next President," and they were given heartily. Next came the call "Three cheers for Gen. Butler," from a Wisconsin post, and they were also given with a will. In fact the honors were well divided between the two throughout the passing of the procession. On the appearance of the Pennsylvania post with their tattooed battle flags, rousing cheers went up. The entire parade was a series of ovations for all departments along the line from thousands of patriotic citizens.

The parade was five hours and thirty-five minutes in passing. Viewed from Franklin square the parade was a magnificent spectacle. The grand arch at the head of the square was finely decorated and was the center attraction, especially to the eyes of the veterans, bearing as it did a finely executed representation of the battle of Gettysburg. As the parade appeared in sight of the grand stand at the square the air resounded with cheer upon cheer, and when Gen. Alger came in sight he was greeted with deafening applause. The procession was a magnificent spectacle from this point, the line of march reaching nearly two miles in a straight line.

THE CALIFORNIANS. NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—A special from Boston to the Mail and Express describes the appearance of the Californians in today's grand army parade as follows: "Swelling cheers proclaim the arrival of a detachment which excited uncommon enthusiasm. From block to block the echoes of the subsiding huzzas are caught up and passed along. The Californians posts are coming. For men who have traveled 4,500 miles to do honor to the occasion no welcome can be too vociferous. Here they come in view, marching magnificently. A great, strong, vital, robust man leads the ranks. He is Department Commander A. J. Buckles. The men behind him parade as if they knew they deserved the praise they are getting. When their special train was delayed at Albany by the strike the language they used was wonderful, but their picturesque appearance and engaging air show them to have recovered from the toils of travel and to have got back their good nature, and as they sweep around between the stand and the church, one universal cheer goes up from both sides of the line. Each man of them feels, as he glances up at the raised platform, that if Benjamin Harrison was not President of the United States he would cheer too. The Californians number almost 200 and these 200 have in them the fighting material of a thousand."

Bitten by a Skunk.

PRESCOTT, (Ariz.), Aug. 12.—Moses Moore, one of the Scotch prospectors who had such a thrilling experience at the time of the Walnut Grove flood last winter, arrived here last night from Jerome Camp suffering from a bite received on the right foot from a skunk, while asleep. The animal imbedded his teeth so firmly in the foot that they were extracted with difficulty and pulled a big piece of foot with them. As two cases of skunk bite have recently proven fatal in the neighborhood, one developing into a well-known case of hydrophobia, Moore left here this morning for the Pasteur Institute, at New York, for treatment.

SALVATOR WINS.

HE CAPTURES THE CHAMPION STAKES.

Tenny Defeated in a Great Race at Monmouth Park—The Contest Very Close—Saratoga Events.

By Telegraph to The Times.

MONMOUTH PARK, Aug. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] The weather was magnificent and the track in good shape. The attendance was 20,000. The lodestone that attracted all these people was the champion stakes.

Seven furlongs—Meriden won, My Fellow second, Bellwood third. Time, 1:30.

Junior Champion stakes, 2 year olds, six furlongs—Strathmeath won, Sallie McClelland second, Potomac third. Time 1:16 3-4.

Champion stakes, mile and a half; the starters were Salvator and Tenny. Salvator is the champion. He won that title in a fair and square contest with Tenny, the only horse on the American turf that has any right to dispute the title with him, and he did it in such decisive style that there can now be no question whatever of his superiority. From start to finish within three furlongs of home it was a pretty and even race. All of a sudden Murphy commenced to ride Salvator and a shout went up "Tenny is beaten." It was true; Tenny had to acknowledge defeat. The fractional time of the race was as follows: Quarter, 24; half, 50; three quarters, 1:17; mile, 1:48; mile and a quarter, 2:05; mile and a half, 2:35. This victory settles decisively the question of the merits of Salvator and Tenny, and while the latter is a great horse, he will have to occupy a secondary position whenever Salvator is mentioned.

Two year olds, maidens, six furlongs—Della colt won, Vanity second, Miles third. Time, 1:19.

Three year olds and upward, mile, Gray Dawn won, Arab second, Sam Wood third. Time, 1:42.

Saratoga Races. SARATOGA, (N. Y.), Aug. 12.—First race, Belle D'O' won, Puzzle second, Worth third. Time 1:42.

Second race—Mile, Ruperta won, Lady Palfurser second, Eminence third. Time 1:44.

Third race—Three-fourths mile, Cleopatra won, Esperanza second, Bertha Campbell third. Time 1:16.

Fourth race—Mile and one-half furlong, Lavinia Belle won, Wilfred second, Martin Russell third. Time 1:49.

Fifth race—One and one-half miles, Sinolow won, Isaac Lewis second, Ranocah third. Time 2:37.

THE RAILROAD STRIKE.

The End as Sudden as Was its Beginning.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] At the Grand Central depot this morning there no longer existed even the semblance of the strike. Passenger trains were coming and going with all the appearance of usual regularity. A telegram to the general manager from Syracuse says order has been fully restored there, and trains are running without interruption. This, he said, ended the strike. Arrangements are being completed to run freight trains. Vice-President Webb said the road had all the men it needed now.

Reports from along the New York Central railroad indicate that the strike is practically at an end. Passenger trains are running on time between here and Albany this morning, and the delay west of there is unimportant. All trains are now leaving the Grand Central depot exactly on time, and the incoming trains are only slightly delayed. Freight traffic has been partially resumed, and the blockade of cars is being rapidly raised. The leaders of the strike are still defiant, and talk mysteriously about some important move to be made, which will allow them to retire from the fight with flying colors, upon the basis of compromise with the railroad officials.

Strikers were in secret session all the morning. They claim the officials are misrepresenting the facts, and declare they have another card to play.

A Report Received From Minister Mizner.

Prompt Reparation For an Affront to the American Flag.

Good Prospect for Stringent Anti Lottery Legislation.

Senator Quay's Plan for Putting an End to Long-Winded Debates in the Senate—Notes.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, (D. C.), Aug. 12.—[By the Associated Press.] Last Friday the State Department received from Minister Mizner a telegram saying that during a battle in the city of San Salvador the forces of the provisional Government seized the American Consulate in that city, hauled down the flag and damaged property.

The department on the same day instructed Mizner to demand full reparation on San Salvador's part; the reinstatement and protection of the consul, and that all rights of the United States and its citizens be observed. Last night the department received word from Mizner stating that the provisional government of Salvador had hoisted our flag over the United States consulate on the day before, at the same time saluting it with twenty-one guns, and the consul had been reinstated, and the rights of the United States and its citizens guaranteed. Acting Secretary Norton said today that it is most gratifying to be assured from this new that Salvador is desirous and anxious to recognize and protect the rights of citizens of the United States and make all reparation possible, whenever any disregard or infringement of them is brought to its attention.

ANTI-LOTTERY LEGISLATION.

The House anti lottery bill was favorably reported to the Senate today with an amendment that newspapers of foreign countries shall not be excluded from the mails under the provisions of this bill. Among the opponents of the bill, the Postmaster-General, they are being circulated for the purpose of advertising lottery schemes in violation of law. Accompanying the bill is a letter from the Attorney General giving his opinion upon the entire anti lottery bill before the committee. "Legislation of this character," he is designed to exclude newspapers circulating lottery advertisements from the mails," says the Attorney-General, "has been upheld by the Courts, and it seems to be settled that it is competent for Congress to authorize the Postmaster-General to refuse the use of the mails to any persons engaged in lottery business." It is generally believed on the Republican side of the House that a special order will be made setting apart Saturday next for consideration of the Anti-Lottery Bill.

NO CURT OFF DEBATE. This afternoon Mr. Quay offered a resolution to amend the rules of the Senate by providing: First, that during the present session the Senate will not take up for consideration any legislative business other than the Tariff Bill, general appropriation bills, bills relating to public buildings and public lands, pensions and Senate or concurrent resolutions; second, that consideration of all other bills be postponed until the next session, and third, that a vote on the Tariff Bill and all amendments thereto be taken on the 30th of August without further debate. The resolution went over.

An Apt Reply.

A well known Danish actor had recently an order conferred upon him. On the day of reception he presented himself at court to thank the king for the distinction. A large number of gentlemen were assembled in the ante-room awaiting admission, and as the room was very draughty the actor, who had just recovered from a severe cold, craved permission to keep on his hat. This was granted, and our comedian took a seat in one corner and silently rehearsed his part for the evening. At last the equerry in waiting called out the name of the actor, who, forgetting he had already donned his hat, quickly snatched up a tall shiner from a window ledge, and thus equipped entered the audience chamber. The king, astonished at the extraordinary apparition, burst into a hearty laugh, while the actor was dumfounded at this exhibition of hilarity on the part of the monarch.

"My good friend," the king said at length, "you have afforded me plenty of amusement before today. Excuse my saying that I can quite understand your keeping a hat on your head, but what is the use of the other which you carry in your hand?"

"Ah, your majesty is right, as always," replied the actor, as with a gesture of alarm he put his hand to his head; "two hats are most certainly too many for a man who has lost his head."—Kieker Zeitung.

Where Are Our Historic Funny Men?

Where are our historic funny men? We do not know of them, or if we do we are antiquarians who search for the anomalies of a past time. There must have been laughter in the Revolution. There must have been joy 'way back in the stern days of the sterner Puritans. There must have been some quick witted New Englander who saw the funny side of Winthrop and recognized the humor of John Endicott's bigotry. Was there no one in the continental congress who ever made a joke except that gawsome one about the galleys and hanging which greeted the signers of the Declaration? Was Governor Morris the only man who had enough of the courage of good fellowship to slap George Washington on the back? Did no one just while the constitution was being framed by those solemn old gentlemen whose lips seem never to have parted in a smile?—Harper's Weekly.

Before We Turn to Dust.

How long will a human body remain in the earth before it decays until it cannot be distinguished from the surrounding clays is a question as yet undecided by the scientists. Much depends upon the character of the soil and the different elements of which it is composed. In countries abounding in limestone, or again, in regions thoroughly saturated with alkaline waters, human flesh will retain a natural color and firmness for an indefinite period of time. The bogs of Ireland have yielded up bodies fresh and natural as life that had been buried in their slimy depths for centuries. It is said to be an historical fact that the bodies of three Roman soldiers were found in a peat bog on the Emerald Isle in the year 1590. A. D., fresh and life like, although they had been buried almost sixteen centuries.—Exchange.

The Milkman at the Pump.

Milkmen are much the same all over the world in their attempts to palm off upon the public as much water as they can disguise. On the Boulevard de Magenta recently, at an early hour in the morning, two policemen came upon one of these purveyors of lactical fluid busily filling up the cans on his cart from the pump, and with such stuff, too! Owing to the drought most of the water used in Paris is taken from the Seine, and its quality may be gathered from the fact that in the public schools orders have been issued that none is to be employed for drinking purposes without being filtered.

The constables challenged the milky Aquarius, who replied courteously: "Ah! well, you have fairly caught me this time. Jump up on my cart and I will drive you to the police office to save you trouble." This amiable invitation was refused by the sergeants de ville, who ordered the delinquent to come out of his cart and walk with them. Instead of complying he whipped up his horse and attempted to escape. At considerable risk one of the constables seized the animal's head, brought it to a standstill, and arrested the delinquent, who along with his "mixture" was marched off to the station. The unusual incident collected a large number of spectators, chiefly workpeople, whose remarks to the erring milkman were far from complimentary.—Paris Cor. London Telegraph.

A Big Rabbit Trap.

Illinois proudly comes to the front for a high place in the world of invention. Its inventor is Mr. Funk, a farmer at Heyworth. This invention is a rabbit trap. Mr. Funk is a competitor for the prize of $125,000 offered by the Australian government for a device that will rid Australia of the terrible rabbit pest which threatens to destroy its agriculture. Various things have been tried without success. The M. Pasteur plan of inoculating the rabbits with a deadly disease was the most promising of these, but this was also a failure. Funk's trap dumps the rabbits into a pit by means of a platform swung on pivots below a bait suspended above it. He has just been informed that the parliamentary committee on rabbits regards it with favor, and has been asked to come to Australia to look after it.—Exchange.

A Mosquito Killer.

Lighthouse Point has for years been infested by mosquitoes, but this year it is said that these insects are harder to find there than picnic gatherings. The reason is that a bug of bigger growth has come along and completely destroyed the mosquito plague. This bug is known by the name of devil's fly, darning needle or spindle bug. It has a long red body and long, tapering, gauze wings. They are regarded as a great boon, as they eat every mosquito that comes along.—New Haven Register.

An Emblem of War.

Jenks—Singular that the peaceful, mild eyed seal should cause so much trouble between Uncle Sam and John Bull.
Jinks—Peaceful nothing! Mild eyed, Addisonical Mars was nowhere compared to a seal as an emblem of war. First, civil war in my family about seal skin acquiesce; now, a threatened war between two nations. Glad when the last seal is dead.—Pittsburg Bulletin.

Irrepressible Boys.

An attempt was made at Belfast the night before the Fourth to prevent the small boys from making the night hideous with the ringing of bells. Notwithstanding the vigilance of five policemen, one of whom was stationed at each church, the boys succeeded in entering one belfry by the lightning rod. The police force might just as well have attempted to stop the sun from rising.—Maine Letter.

CATARRH,

Throat Diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption successfully treated by

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D.

M. C. P. S. O.

By his Medicated Inhalations and Compound Oxygen Treatment.

Probably no system of practice ever employed has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

CATARRH.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to recover from the disease. Indeed he declares that he is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another, and he is always exceedingly careful; it is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and throat.

At times many of the symptoms of catarrh seem to subside, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another class of symptoms soon appear and he learns to his horror, that instead of recovery from the disease, it is somewhat changed in its character and has extended to the throat.

A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in the throat, or it appears that some foreign matter is being expelled, or, for instance, a hair, clabrous throat, there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue; the breath becomes on a little exertion short, hacking, cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though there were some roughness in the chest to breathe; these and other symptoms occur after the disease has been considerable progress. There is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work.

CONSUMPTION.

The earlier symptoms of consumption consist in a weariness at times or a disposition to remain passive, a peculiar sensitiveness to the effects of cold, also breathlessness upon moving or ascending a hill or stairs, a slight, hacking cough, with or without expectoration, or, for instance, a hair, clabrous throat, there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue; the breath becomes on a little exertion short, hacking, cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though there were some roughness in the chest to breathe; these and other symptoms occur after the disease has been considerable progress. There is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work.

Every case of catarrh is curable, when properly treated. Eastern visitors and invalids should avail themselves of the opportunity of being cured before they return home.

Those who desire to consult me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for an examination, but, if impossible to visit the office personally, can write for a list of questions and circular, both of which will be sent free of charge. Address

BUY LANDS
—IN—YUBA COUNTY!

Where you do not have to irrigate and where crop failures are unknown. The "boom" coming north and we are right in its track. Land prices are lower in comparison to intrinsic value here than in any other county. Delicious and citrus fruits, grapes, peaches, alfalfa and every crop that will grow in Los Angeles grows here without irrigation. For full particulars of lands address or call on

M. H. DURST,
Wheatland, Cal.

Only a few choice tracts for sale, and it would be well to make up your minds in a hurry. We have several large tracts that would do for colony purposes.

100 acres fine grain and fruit. This tract adjoins the Morrison place on the south, three miles west of Wheatland. The county road divides the place into two tracts. There are 100 acres of undeveloped Bear River bottom land. The upland is as fine a tract of land as can be found. This is one of the cheapest bodies of land in the county and is a bargain. Five hundred acres are summer fallowed and ready to yield a maximum crop next season. Improvements nominal. Price $22,000, half cash, balance to suit purchaser.

400 acres near Reed's Station. This is the choicest tract of land near Reed's Station. It lies within one-quarter mile of the depot, within six miles of Colusa and the railroad road passes through the tract. The county road bounds this land for three miles. The Colusa drainage gutter, consisting of 100 acres, is within one mile of this tract. Every acre is tillable. It is fenced into seven fields and would be a magnificent tract for subdivision. As soon as the oranges on Coloma come into bearing this tract will bring $2000 per acre. Lease pays taxes and keeps up fences and will release at end of an crop year. Price, $27,000, includes 200 acres of summer fallow. Improvements nominal.

Best property in Yuba county, immediately adjoining the second town in the county. 200 acres of land, all in one nearly square tract and bounded for two miles by the county road. Fifty acres will be required for town lots inside two years. 250 acres of Bear River bottom, absolutely independent of irrigation. Without any exception the highest grade lands in the State. 50 acres in hope. The crop upon this land is as fine as any the State and will yield from 3500 to 2000 pounds per acre. There is a hophouse, 6x110 feet in size, complete with all the machinery with a capacity of 24,000 pounds per day. 15 acres in young horticultural trees. There is also a small grove of oaks on the place. The upland is well adapted to grapes, olives, figs and all kinds of citrus and deciduous fruits. The place will be sold as a whole or in part, desirably located property in Yuba county, and never has been offered for sale before. The owner has too much land and has decided to sell part of his holding and highly improve the balance. There is not such another place to secure a property in this county, and those who among the best should look into this. Would make four most desirable farms and could be subdivided into small lots to advantage. Price $70,000. Terms to suit.
